Score in Yesterday's Football Game.

Eastern Boys No Match For Local Highs—The Greensboro Players Showed Effect of Excellent Coaching, While Fayetteville Lacked This Essential—Three Touchdowns Within Ten Minutes—Reception Last Evening.

Yesterday afternoon Cone Park was the scene of a fast and snappy game of football despite the apparent unevenness of the score when Greensboro High School defeated Fayetteville High School by a score of 37 to 0. The eastern boys played hard throughout, although plainly outclassed on account of their lack of the splendid coaching which put the local boys in such excellent condition for the fray.

Greensboro wound up a very successful season by the decisive victory as a little review of their record will show. In games with the Bingham School of Mebane, Danville Boys' School, Reidsville High School and yeste.day's contest Greensboro has been victorious by the respective scores of 23 to 0, 4 to 0, 54 to 6 and 37 to 0. In their other two games they were defeated, at Raleigh against that city's High School team by a score of 5 to 3 and in this city the U. N. C. Freshmen administered a defeat by the score of 9 to 0. While the local boys do not claim the State High School championship this year as they have won for the three previous years, still they stand higher than any High School in the State by comparative scores. The defeat by Raleigh is unavenged but this happens through no fault of the local management who offered Raleigh every date for a game but the match could not be brought about. The Greensboro team has not yet disbanded in the hope of another game this late but the chances for the championship match is small since Raleigh seems determined not to risk her claims by another game.

But for the game itself: The officials were Mr. Coffin, referee; Mr. Groome, umpire; Messrs. Harry and King, timekeepers, and Mr. Grimsley, head linesman. The quarters were ten minutes each.

Although the members of both teams played good ball the bright features were the playing of Capt. Grady for Fayetteville, and of Capt. Coffin and Preddy for Greensboro. Grady played an excellent game. Time after time he went through Greensboro's interference and downed the runner and just as frequently he carried the ball for long gains. Capt. Coffin played the same stellar style of football that has characterized his work the entire year. Preddy made several sensational tackles and received several beautifully executed forward passes for long gains.

The line-ups were:

Greensboro.	Position.	Fayetteville
Foust	C.	Fry
Lindau	L. G.	Murray
Fisher	R. G.	B. McNeil
Harry	L. T.	Riddick
Dixon	R. T.	Smith
McDuffie	L. E.	C. Van
Murray	R. E.	Clifton
Coffin (Capt.)	Q. B.	Gibbs
Yates	L. H.	Tomlinson
Marrs	R. H.	L. McNeil
Grimsley	F. B.	Grady (Capt.)

Substitutions: For Greensboro, Preddy for McDuffie, Taylor for Harry, Calhum for Murray.

In the first quarter Fayetteville was literally knocked off their feet. By straight football Greensboro scored three touchdowns from which one goal was kicked. Coffin, Grimsley and Marrs made long runs sending the later over for a touchdown in two and a half minutes of play. Then when Fayetteville received the kick and attempted to punt Dixon blocked the ball, knocking it across the line, where, in a general scramble, Preddy captured it for the second touchdown which only required two minutes. On again receiving the kick Fayetteville fumbled and enabled Grimsley to score the third. Coffin kicked goal. Score Greensboro 18, Fayetteville 0.

In the second the visitors braced and only one touchdown was scored, which was carried over by Grimsley after a hard struggle. Goal was kicked and the score was Greensboro 22, Fayetteville 0.

In the third period by hard rushes and recapturing several punts Coffin and Marrs [illegible] sent over for touchdowns, goals were missed leaving the score 34 to 0.

The fourth was the prettiest from the Greensboro's long forward [illegible] by which Preddy made long gains, and other open plays were the most interesting to watch. Coffin carried the ball across the line but missed the goal. The final score was Greensboro 37, Fayetteville 0, seven touchdowns and three resulting goals.

The game throughout was clean and interesting. The Greensboro boys are especially gratified for the largest crowd ever witnessing a football game was present and the Athletic Association of the High School is at last out of debt.

But if justice be done to the visitors it must be said that they played with a sick quarterback and their lack of training was the cause of their defeat.

Last night the Athletic Association of the High School, at the residence of Miss Kathleen Denny on Church street, gave an enjoyable reception in honor of the Fayetteville team. Little footballs were given as souvenirs and delicious refreshments were served.

GOT HIS DIAMOND.

But Young Groceryman Killed All His Chickens In the Search.

There is a certain grocery store in the city where dressed fowls are plentiful, in fact at this particular store there were no other kind yesterday. To explain this circumstance makes it necessary to tell a joke on a member of the firm, who is young, handsome and unmarried.

This promising young merchant has for some time been sporting a handsome diamond ring, placed on his finger by a young lady for whom he feels the deepest—regard. But as luck would have it the set dropped out of the ring while he was busy in the store the other day and he did not miss his loss until some hours afterwards. Then he began a search, calling the delivery boys, and customers as well, to his aid, but to no avail. At last one of his customers suggested that perhaps the set was lost in the chicken coop and one of the chickens had swallowed it, thinking it was something to eat. If this was correct, and it seemed plausible, the chickens were doomed for that set must be found at all hazards.

Strict orders were given that no chickens must be sold from the coop unless killed and dressed by a special representative. Personally superintending the job the young man had the chickens killed one by one and the crops of the birds examined, but no diamond. However, in the crop of the last chicken the stone was found and, the story goes, the merchant was so happy that he danced with glee. He makes the assertion that no more will he wear that ring around a chicken coop.

LADY COOK TO TALK SUFFRAGE

Former Tennessee Claflin Arrives For a Lecture Tour.

New York, Nov. 24.—Lady Cook, formerly Tennessee Claflin, who is one of the foremost suffragettes of England, arrived yesterday on the White Star liner Oceanic for a lecture tour which will cover the country from Maine to California.

"There are 1,000,000 women ready to die for the cause of woman suffrage," said Lady Cook. "The women of England are in earnest in this great fight, and American women must show that they are also in earnest. Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont and Mrs. Clarence Mackay have done great work for the cause here, but it will be necessary for other women to lend their conscientious aid to the movement before it will be entirely successful here."

SANG AT HIS OWN FUNERAL

Music Lover's Phonograph Reproduced Self-Made Solos.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—Pietro Ficco, a shoemaker and amateur musician and very fond of a phonograph, which was his first purchase with his savings, sang at his own funeral. Ficco died at the home of compatriots with whom he boarded. Unable to afford a funeral with song, as he could have obtained in his natve village in the Abruzzi, he requested that his phonograph be utilized in the service.

Ficco owned several records, with "The Angels' Serenade" and Gounod's "Ave Maria" sung by himself, and these, the only two in a repertoire considered desirable for so solemn an occasion as a funeral service, were used. The phonograph and 72 records will be sent to his aged mother in Italy.

PRIZES IN THE MEN'S CONTEST

They Will be Awarded on Dec. 10.

Adult Corn Growing Contestants Will Make Reports On Saturday, December 10—County Agricultural Association to Announce Winners—All Contestants To Bring Bushel of Corn—Boys to Bring 75 Ears To Be Sold.

The successful contestants in the men's corn growing contest will be awarded prizes on Saturday, Dec. 10, at a meeting of the Guilford County Agricultural Association to be held on that date. This meeting will be an important one, as the association will decide whether it shall continue its existence.

To the Members of the Guilford County Agricultural Association:

The executive committee of the association met here on Saturday, November 19, and awarded the prizes in the boys' contest. As very few of the men had reported, they decided to delay awarding prizes to the men until Saturday, December 10.

Each member of the association is earnestly requested to meet here at the court house on Saturday, December 10, at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. The executive committee wishes to make a full report to the association of what it has done, and wind up the year's work of the association.

Those of you who entered the men's contest will please bring with you the bushel of corn which you agreed to donate to the association when you entered the contest. This corn, together with that pledged by the boys to the association, will be sold at public auction, and the proceeds from this sale will be used in paying prizes.

Please give notice of this meeting to your neighbors and friends so that they may have the opportunity of attending this meeting. We hope to make it a great day for the agricultural interests of the county. One of the questions to be decided at that time will be whether the association shall continue its existence and work along the line it has pursued during the past year. It is, therefore, important that each member be present on the date which has been named.

Yours very truly,
THOS. R. FOUST.
Secretary Guilford County Agricultural Association.

To the Members of the Boys' Corn Club:

The executive committee of the Guilford County Agricultural Association met Saturday, November 19, and awarded the prizes in the contest. They decided to ask all the boys who entered this contest to bring to Greensboro on Saturday, December 10, the seventy-five ears of corn which each one promised to donate to the association. This corn will be sold on that day at public auction, and we hope to have all the money raised to pay off all the prizes then. This meeting will begin at 10:30 o'clock, in the court house.

You are expected to bring your 75 ears of corn, whether you reported your yield to the association or not. As you know, each boy signed an agreement to donate to the association 75 ears, and this is now due the association from each boy who signed that obligation.

The yield of those who reported is remarkably good, and I hope that we shall be able to continue this excellent work on a larger scale next year. I shall expect to see you here on Saturday, December 10, with your 75 ears of corn.

Yours very truly,
THOS. R. FOUST,
Secretary Guilford County Agricultural Association.

Goes West For His Health.

Mr. William A. Stewart left last night for Phoenix, Arizona, which will be his home for a time. He goes west for the sake of health. "Billie," as he is universally known among his acquaintances, was with The Telegram for over three years and the good wishes of all his fellow workers follow him on his long trip.

The ship always has a stern duty to perform and is prowed of it.

THANKSGIVING DAY WELL SPENT

Observed Generally In Greensboro.

Congregations of Several Churches Attended Divine Services In Morning—Nearly All Business Suspended—Special Dinners Prepared—The Poor Not Forgotten—Not a Single Arrest Made During Day.

Greensboro folk spent Thanksgiving in a quiet and decorous way and for the most part entirely in keeping with the spirit that prompted our forefathers when they first met to pray and rejoice and to feast together in goodly fellowship and in the spirit of common brotherhood. It, was in such spirit that the Christian people of Greensboro met yesterday to rejoice and give thanks to an All-wise Providence for His goodness to His children.

Miss Eckert in her masterful address Tuesday evening said that Jesus was the first interdenominational worker, an aphorism which is being recognized by churches more and more as the days go by, but which finds its most potent expression perhaps in the services of our Christian churches on Thanksgiving day.

At the Friends' church on Asheboro street denominational lines were forgotten and the Friends, the Methodists of Centenary church, the Baptists of Asheboro Street church, the Presbyterians of Westminster, the First Reformed and the Moravian congregations all met under one common creed of "Peace on earth good will to men." The sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Litaker, based on the 116th Psalm. There was a union service also at Spring Garden Street Methodist church, participated in by the Baptists of Forest Avenue, the Methodists of Spring Garden and the Presbyterians of the Church of the Covenant. At this service Rev. Mr. Williams preached from the text, "Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift." There was an unusually large crowd present at the service held in the First Presbyterian church and also at the Holy Trinity Episcopal church. At the First Presbyterian church, the pastor, Rev. Melton Clark, preached from Isaiah 12:3. Rev. Mr. Faulkner used as the basis of his sermon the text, "O, give thanks unto the Lord, for His goodness and mercy endureth forever." In the absence of a pastor, no services were held at the First Baptist church, the members worshiping with other congregations, many being in attendance at the West Market Street Methodist church where a very interesting and impressive service was held, the sermon being preached by the pastor, Rev. Mr. McLarty, based on the 65th Psalm, 9 to 12 verses.

There was special music at most of the churches, and at all special collections were taken for the orphanages in the support of the various denominations.

In a large number of the homes special dinners were prepared and while turkey was not so plentiful the people feasted on chicken and other edibles equally as palatable. Special menus were prepared at the hotels. In the midst of thanksgiving the poor were not forgotten and many homes were visited and good cheer and something to stay the pangs of hunger left behind. The Salvation Army worked especially hard in ministering in this manner.

An especially large number of Greensboro people went to Richmond to be present at the Carolina-Virginia football game. In the afternoon there was a football game at Cone Park between the High School of Greensboro and Fayetteville.

All the banks of the city, and most of the factories and business houses were closed throughout the day. Municipal court was suspended and judging from the quiet that reigned on the streets, there will be but few cases Friday, except those that were carried over from Wednesday. Not a single arrest was made during the day and until midnight last night.

Will Arrive Today.

Rev. Leon E. Smith, of Elon College, will arrive today to assume the duties of pastor of the Greensboro Christian church. He will stop temporarily with Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Clymer, Blandwood avenue.

A DEBATE AT THE NORMAL COLLEGE

Two Debaters From the Cornelians Will Match Argumentative and Oratorical Powers With Similar Number of Adelphians.

There will be an inter-society debate tonight in the Students' building at the Normal College, commencing at 8:30 o'clock.

The Cornelian society will furnish two debaters and the Adelphians two. The query will be, "Resolved That Our Immigration Laws Shall Be Further Restricted By an Educational Test."

The Adelphian debaters, who are Misses Minnie Lippman and Lucy Landon, will argue the affirmative. The negative of the proposition will be maintained by Misses Lelia White and Nora Carpenter, of the Cornelians.

The officers of the debate will be Miss Rose Batterham, chairman; and Miss Myrtle Johnston, secretary.

The Telegram is asked to say that the Greensboro people are cordially invited to come out and hear the debate.

The debaters are all members of the senior class except one, who is a junior.

BOYS' EXHIBITION

It Will Be Held This Afternoon At the Library.

This exhibition to be held in the library this afternoon from 3 p. m. to 6 p. m. will be a very interesting display of the taste and activities of Greensboro boys. It is intended as an encouragement to wholesome and manly taste in collecting and also in the making of useful articles.

VIRGINIA WINS FROM CAROLINA

Score at Richmond Seven to Nothing.

Lack of Team Work Largely Responsible For Defeat of Tar Heel Men—Individual Playing Good—A. & M. Defeats V. P. I. Five to Three at Norfolk—Wake Forest Loses to Davidson Twenty-Six To Nothing.

(By James T. Morehead, Jr.)

Richmond, Va., Nov. 24.—In the annual Thanksgiving football game between the Universities of Virginia and North Carolina which was pulled off here today, the final result was the defeat of Carolina by the score of 7 to 0.

Carolina went into the game with a vim and in the first quarter it looked like Carolina had a snap. She kept the pigskin in Virginia's territory nearly all of this quarter but in the second quarter of the first half the ball was kept in Carolina's territory and from then till the game was over, excepting the first quarter of the second half, the ball was kept back and forth from one goal to the other without any imminent danger to either side.

In the second quarter of the first half Virginia punted the ball over Carolina's line and made a safety and the score was then 2 to 0.

In the first quarter of the second half Carolina kicked to Virginia and Todd of Virginia made a beautiful 75 yard dash for a goal and made the only touch down of the game.

Virginia failed to kick goal and the score stood 7 to nothing. Virginia tried one field goal from Carolina's 25 yard line but failed.

Carolina's defeat is attributed to lack of team work. The individual playing was good but the team did not work together as well as the Virginians.

The Carolina players weighed about 10 pounds to the man more than Virginia's. The Virginians were much faster than the Carolinians.

Yesterday at Norfolk the eleven from the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Raleigh defeated the eleven from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute by the close score of five to three.

Yesterday at Charlotte Davidson won from Wake Forest by the walkover score of twenty-six to nothing. A number of Greensboro people went down to see the game. Lunsford Richardson, of this city, who last year starred on the High School eleven, played right end for Davidson.

G. F. C. BASKETBALL.

Specials Won From Seniors Yesterday—Thanksgiving Service.

There was an interesting game of basketball at Greensboro Female College yesterday between the Senior and the Specials, resulting in a score of 16 to 21 in favor of the Specials.

There was a special service in the morning in the Y. W. C. A. rooms, after which, and for the remainder of the day, the young ladies occupied themselves in playing games, receiving visitors and engaging in those innocent pranks and amusements which make up the life of college pupils when not engaged in the more serious employment of study and class-room demonstration.

Meets Next Year At Bethlehem.

Rev. L. I. Cox, of Burlington, passed through the city yesterday afternoon en route home from Pleasant Grove, Va., where he attended the North Carolina and Virginia Christian Conference. He reports that the sessions of the conference were largely attended and the progress made during the year by the churches represented was most gratifying. The conference will be held next year at Bethlehem, Alamance county. The new officers are Rev. J. W. Holt, Burlington, president; Rev. T. W. Stroud, of Chapel Hill, vice president; Rev. W. P. Lawrence, Elon College, secretary, and Mr. Sam Farmer, News Ferry, Va., treasurer.

Death Near White Oak.

The six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pettigrew died yesterday morning at 7 o'clock at the home, North of White Oak. The remains will be taken through the country to Reidsville this morning for interment in the Reidsville cemetery this afternoon.

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM

It Is An Internal Disease And Requires An Internal Remedy.

The cause of rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. RUBBING with Oils and Liniments WILL NOT CURE, affords only temporary relief at best, causes you to delay the proper treatment, and allows the malady to get a firmer hold on you. Liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure Rheumatism than paint will change the fiber of rotten wood.

Science has at last discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called Rheumacide. Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide gets at the joints from the inside, sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the liver and kidneys and makes you well all over. Rheumacide strikes the root of the disease and removes its cause. This splendid remedy is sold by druggists and dealers generally at 50c. and $1 a bottle. In Tablet form at 25c. and 50c. a package. Write to Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md. Booklet free. Tablets sent by mail.

PRETTY WEDDING AT MOORESVILLE

Mr. S. Clay Williams, of Greensboro, and Miss Lu Telle Sherrill United in Marriage on Wednesday Evening—Will Be at Home in Greensboro in About Ten Days.

Mooresville, Nov. 23.—The prettiest wedding event that Mooresville people have witnessed in a long time took place here at 6 o'clock this evening, when Miss Lu Telle Sherrill became the bride of Mr. Samuel Clay Williams, of Greensboro. The First Presbyterian church was the scene of the event and Rev. W. S. Wilson, the pastor, was the officiating minister. The church auditorium had been prettily decorated for the happy event. Banked about the altar, which was lighted by scores of candles were potted plants and ferns, and asparagus ferns and yellow chrysanthemums completed the altar decorations.

Just before the ceremony Mrs. H. M. Ulmer played on the organ Handel's Largo, and this was followed with Schubert's Traumeri. The bridal party entered to the lovely strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin. First came the ushers, who were Dr. J. W. Tankersly, of Greensboro; Mr. H. M. Ulmer, of Monroe; Dr. F. W. Rankin, of Baltimore, and Messrs. T. J. Williams, Jr., B. M. McNeeley and J. H. McClellan, of Mooresville. Then little Misses Mary Mills Ham, as cupid, and the maids of honor, who were two young cousins of the bride, Misses Carey Wilson and Clara Mills. The maids of honor wore white chiffon over taffeta and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Next came the dame of honor, Mrs. J. H. Ham, of Charlotte, cousin of the bride, who wore dewdrop chiffon over yellow satin and carried white chrysanthemums. The bride entered leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. J. Elbert Sherrill, who gave her away. She wore white satin draped and embroidered with duchess and point lace, with veil with lilies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids.

The bridegroom, with his best man, Mr. Charles A. Hines, of Greensboro, entered from the pastor's study, advancing to the altar, where the bridegroom met his bride. The Rev. Mr. Wilson then united the young couple using the simple yet pretty ring service of the Presbyterian church. After the ceremony the wedding party retired in reversed order, while theorganist rendered the Mendelssohn march.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sherrill, parent of the bride gave an elaborate reception this evening from 6:30 to 8:30 at their home on Main street in honor of the newly wedded couple. The color scheme was white in the parlor, yellow in the dining room and yellow and white in the library where the presents were displayed. The bridal gifts consisted of a splendid aray of cut glass, silver and bric-a-brac, together with many other useful articles.

After the reception Mr. Williams and bride took an automobile for Charlotte and there they boarded train No. 30 for a trip to New York city. After ten days' absence they will return to Greensboro to reside. Mr. Williams is a popular and able young member of the Greensboro bar and a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Williams, of Mooresville. His bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Elbert Sherrill, and is a woman of splendid attainments, and is gifted with a personal charm and sunny disposition that have won for friends wherever she is known.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. Its positively guaranteed for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50 c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Blow to Pride.

In the dining room of a hotel in Nice on a huge placard posted over the mantelpiece you read the following:

"Our English visitors are kiddly requested to address the waiters and servants in English, as their French is not generally understood."—Tit-Bits.

It is really wonderful how quickly Vick's Croup and Pneumonia Salve breaks up a cold, croup or pneumonia symptoms. Just rub it on. Keep a jar ready.

"A rose by any other name would smell as sweet," quoted the optimist. "Yes, until it withers," added the pessimist."

Punishment

By HELOISE BRAYTON

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

Lieutenant Enrique Gonsalez was sent with fifty men of the Mexican army up into the mountains to get rid of a band of robbers who were a terror to the gold miners. What was his surprise to hear when he reached the locality in question that the bandits were led by a girl twenty-one or twenty-two years old.

Gonsalez cornered them and called on them to surrender. The reply that came from the little mountain pocket in which they were ensconced was a burst of girlish laughter that was sweet and musical.

In the fight that ensued a number were killed on both sides, but the bandits were practically annihilated. A few were made prisoners, including the girl leader, who was addressed by the single name of Concia.

"Senorita," said her captor, "I dislike to shoot a woman. Promise me that you will abandon the life you are leading and I will spare your life."

"I prefer to die with these men whom you have not yet killed."

The lieutenant winced. He would rather die himself than kill a woman, especially this one.

"Suppose," he said presently, "you all give me your pledge to go to your homes and lead honest lives."

"As for homes," the girl replied, "we have none, but we are willing to break up and join no other band, living as honest lives as we can without starving."

There were but half a dozen men left. Gonsalez would have shot them, but to save the girl he made good his proposition. Each one of the band gave the required promise and went his way. Concia did not seem by any means pleased with the arrangement on her own account. She acted as if she would rather have died and had only assented to it to save the lives of the remnant of her band. She turned away from the lieutenant without a word of thanks and, taking a trail leading up the mountain, was soon lost to view.

A year passed, during which no robberies by a regularly organized band were committed. Then the trouble broke out afresh. It was supposed that the remnant of the old band had broken their pledge and become the nucleus of a new one. Whether they had the same leader as before was a matter of conjecture. Gonsalez was considered the man above all others to go to the mountains and destroy the robbers.

Friends warned the bandits of the approach of the soldiers, and they determined to retreat to a spot where they could defend themselves against a greatly superior force. Gonsalez followed them, but when he came up with them saw that they were not only in an impregnable position, but that they outnumbered his own force. Nevertheless he attacked them. Receiving a murderous fire, he lost a large number of his men, while none of the robbers was killed. Not only this; sallying from behind their improvised fort, they drove the soldiers before them till they in turn were obliged to take refuge in a gorge where they had a chance to defend themselves. Night came on, and Gonsalez, who knew no way out of the trap he was in, looked to the morrow for a slaughter of his force.

He had rolled himself in his blanket and was sinking into a troubled slumber when he felt a touch. By the light of a smoldering fire he saw bending over him a woman, and in that woman he recognized Concia.

"What—you here!" he exclaimed. "I supposed you were in command of the robbers."

"No, senor lieutenant, though I am the only one of my band who is not there. I told them that if they broke their promise to you I would punish them, and I am here to give them that punishment. Let your fires go out and then get your men under arms. I will lead you to a place where you can come down on them, taking them unawares."

Gonsalez determined to trust her and acted accordingly. About midnight, when the fires were all out and the robbers could not see them move, the soldiers, led by Concia, who seemed to have the eyes of a cat, passed through a defile and just before the break of day emerged from a thicket of low trees, rushed down upon the sleeping robbers and after killing two-thirds of them overpowered the rest.

"This is your victory," said Gonsalez to Concia. "It is for you to say what shall be done with the prisoners."

Concia peered into the faces of the captives and picked out three men.

"These," she said to Gonsalez, "were of my band, and I saved them. They have broken their pledge. Indeed, they organized the new band. Shoot them. Spare the rest under a new pledge."

Her orders were carried out to the letter. When the troops were ready to depart Lieutenant Gonsalez promised Concia that if she would go with them he would see that the government rewarded her for saving the troops and being instrumental in the annihilation of the bandits.

"I will not go," she replied. "I did not save you and guide you to where you could attack them for pay. I did it because—because it seemed—that is what I would do."

As before, she turned away and was seen no more.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL GREENSBORO, N.C.

A very popular, efficient and deserving railroad man won promotion when Mr. Henry W. Miller, of Raleigh, was made an assistant to President Finley, of the Southern, with headquarters in Atlanta. Mr. Miller succeeds Mr. J. S. B. Thompson, who becomes president of the Atlantic Compress Company.

Dr. Britton D. Evans, the alienist who discovered "brain storm" for the benefit of Harry Thaw, told a New Jersey jury the other day of a new form of insanity, which he termed "circle insanity." He testified on a hypothetical question that a person afflicted with this form of mental derangement had "circles" of insanity, in which it was possible for him to start from a lucid point and go through a series of revolting actions, and then arrive at an apparently normal condition after he had been strapped to a bed and a garden hose played on him for an hour. Of course the object of this marvelous discovery was to acquit a man charged with a revolting crime. Dr. Evans won't have to evolve more than about one more new form of the insanity of convenience before the public will be ready to conclude that he is himself a fit subject for a lunacy commission to act on.

The ability to say "no" is a very profitable accomplishment. The gentleman who wants your signature to his contract is extremely resourceful. If there is a weak joint in the armor of your resolution, he will find it and pierce it with the javelin of his shrewdness. At the same time a man's financial welfare and sometimes his financial salvation lie in his ability to resist the wiles of the artful signature-seeker. It is estimated that the people of the United States have thrown away one hundred million dollars in the last five years on get-rich-quick swindling concerns, and one explanation of this astounding fact is the failure of people to have a mind of their own and their consequent surrender to smooth-tongued solicitors. While the swindlers get rich returns from the inability of people to say "no," they also profit extensively from the extreme and surprising gullibility of some people. "A sucker is born every minute." The world seems to be full of men and women who are ready to buy stock in mining concerns, real estate that they have never seen and know nothing about, etc., etc., on the statement of a stranger that the investment will bring handsome returns. Another class of people deserve to be fleeced for they start out on their get-rich-quick campaign knowing that for them to gather in big returns others must lose correspondingly. These are the ones who fall a prey to the bucket shop relying for their supposed fabulous profits upon arbitrarily advanced prices for shares, wash sales and the like and believing that the sharpers with whom they are dealing will keep their promise to give them an unfair advantage. The way to acquire wealth is to work for it. Any other way is a delusion and a snare.

When John Worth Kern, of Indiana, enters the United States Senate, he will not leave his luxuriant whiskers behind him. The United States Senate is the most august deliberative body in the world—at least it is popularly reputed to be—but Mr. Kern isn't going to permit that fact to interfere with the satisfaction that he finds in the wearing of flourishing chin-whiskers. The Baltimore Sun, with a keen appreciation of the relation in which Mr. Kern stands to his whiskers and they to him, says:

The announcement that the Hon. John W. Kern, of Indiana, will not shave off his whiskers when elected to the United States Senate is just what we were led to expect from him, knowing as we do the character of his mettle. He will stand by them if he and they stand alone on the floor of the Senate. The announcement of this decision shows the stuff the man is made of—his courage under fire, his fidelity to old friendships. Who was it that stood most stanchly by Mr. Kern when, as a candidate for Governor in a hopelessly Republican year, he led the forlorn hope of his party over Indiana's hot and dusty field of politics? His whiskers. Who was it that shielded his bosom from the fierce winds that blew upon him when, as a candidate for Vice President, he rode the political storm of 1908? His whiskers. Who was it in the recent campaign, when the Grand Young Man swept through the State, throwing his voice, a surging and destroying wave of sound, against the body of his opponent, stood like a bulwark between that tremendous force and the form of its intended victim? His whiskers. When he shall take his place in the Senate, there to battle for the people against the aggression of greed, the onward march of special interests, we shall expect to see those whiskers wave far in front of the deadly fight, like the white plume of Navarre, summoning his followers to victory. And when he falls, if fall he must, from his dead body will they wave encouragement to his friends, and bristle with defiance to his foes. Sacrifice his whiskers to the demands of a mawkish sentiment of effete fashion? You are not talking to the Hon. John Worth Kern, of Indiana.

GALA OCCASION AT M'LEANSVILLE

Fair By Betterment Association and Farmers' Rally Yesterday—Entertainment by Children and Oyster Supper Last Night.

The people of McLeansville and vicinity celebrated Thanksgiving in an interesting and instructive way yesterday. During the day a neighborhood fair was held, at which the people of the town and vicinity exhibited different articles raised or manufactured this year. In connection with the fair there was a Farmers' Rally, at which Dr. H. Q. Alexander, president of the State Farmers' Union, made a most helpful address.

The fair was under the auspices of the Woman's Betterment Association of the McLeansville Graded schools and was a complete success. Many took part and numerous articles of fancy work, made by the women of the neighborhood, were on exhibit. The farmers had specimens of farm products and the ladies had their finest chickens on exhibition. No prizes were offered, but those having the finest exhibits carried off the honors of the occasion.

Last evening in the school building the children of the school gave an entertainment that was greatly enjoyed by a large number of people. The Betterment Association sold oysters during the evening and a neat sum was realized. Excepting the oyster supper the several events were free and hundreds of people attended.

MISSES LEIGH ENTERTAIN

Delightful Affair in Honor of Friends At 720 W. Lee Street—Refreshments—Music.

Misses Mabel, Marjorie and Viola Leigh, 720 West Lee street, were hostesses last evening at a most delightful Thanksgiving reception tendered at their home in honor of about thirty friends, several of whom came over from High Point to be present on the occasion.

The reception was an informal one, everyone present being given the utmost freedom to enjoy the evening without those restrains incident to occasions where it is necessary for one to be on the qui vive for the "next number."

There was plenty of music, both vocal and instrumental, which was dispensed according to no program, but as the obliging performers were prompted, or when requested by guests to render favorite selections. There were also refreshments ample and of various kinds, and daintily appareled maidens to serve them. So that everyone present passed the evening in unalloyed pleasure and wholesome enjoyment.

Thought Once Was Enough.

The Sunday school lesson was from that Scripture which teaches that if your brother strikes you on the cheek you should turn the other also and endure even for seventy times seven. Johnny had listened to his teacher very attentively while she emphasized this fact, and after the lesson the superintendent rose to make a few remarks.

"Now, boys," she said, "how many times ought another boy to strike you before you hit him back?"

"Just about once!" promptly answered Johnny.—Judge.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh,, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

CURFEES—SHORT.

Fremont, Nov. 24.—On the night before Thanksgiving the marriage of Miss Mana Short to Mr. Frank Warren Curfees was solemnized in the Methodist church, which was beautifully decorated in green and white. Numberless candles twinkled among masses of ferns, making a fitting setting for a lovely scene.

At half past seven Mrs. Darden and Miss Flora Aycock entered and the song, "Oh Perfect Love" was beautifully sung by Miss Aycock. While Mrs. Darden played the "Lohengrin" march the ushers came down the aisles in the following order: Messrs. Albert Dickinson, Harvey Dickinson, Jimmy Short and Dr. Hooks. Nevt came little Miss Pauline Short, bearing the ring in a lily. Miss Pansy Short, in pink messaline and carrying pink carnations, came down one aisel while Mrs. Long, dame of honor, in blue messaline and carrying white carnations, came down the other. The bride, in chiffon over crepe de chine, came in on her brother's arm, while the groom came in with his best man, Mr. James Davis. Rev. B. H. Black performed the ceremony. Then Mrs. Darden ceased her low soft playing of Schubert's serenade and struck into Mendelssohn's wedding march, to the imposing strains of which the newly married couple passed into their new life through a symoblic gate of white twined with vines and crowned with candles.

After spending Thanksgiving with the parents of the groom Mr. and Mrs. Curfees will be at home in Greensboro.

Some of the guests from out of town were Mrs. John Powell of Goldsboro, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Short Mt. Olive, Miss Annie Powell Goldsboro, Mrs. W. L. "I'VE SHOT A MAN, COME AND GET ME"

Above Message Startled Deputy Weatherly; Also Sheriff Jones and Deputy Crutchfield Yesterday Afternoon—W. W. Gates Fired At Passing Negroes and Thought He Had Killed One.

Yesterday afternoon while Deputy Sheriff W. J. Weatherly was enjoying himself as only a man who has feasted on turkey can do he was startled by the ringing of his telephone. On picking up the receiver and giving notice that he was at the phone, over the wire came the startling announcement "I have just killed a man, come and lock me up." "Who is that," questioned the officer, reaching for his pistol and handcuffs and slipping them into his pocket. He was told that the personage at the other end of the wire was Mr. W. W. Gates, who lives near Piedmont Heights. Mr. Gates informed the officer that several negroes had come on his place and he had ordered them off and as they did not go he had taken the liberty of sending some lead in their direction. One of the negroes was carried off by the others and he supposed that the negro was dead. Consequently he concluded the best thing to do was to surrender.

Deputy Weatherly communicated with Sheriff Jones and Deputy Crutchfield and all three officers went to the scene as speedily as possible. As a result of their investigation there will be a hearing before Justice Collins on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at which all the parties interested will be present.

On arricing at the scene, Mr. Gates' house, the officers were told that several negroes came through the yard on a hunting trip. Mr. Gates had told them they could not hunt on his land and one had thrown a rock, striking the porch. Mr. Gates drew his pistol and fired and he felt sure that the shot was effective. He exhibited the rock thrown at him. At a negro home nearby the officers found the four negroes, two Burton brothers, a negro named Bradsher and another named Garrett. None of them were hurt, but all were afraid to poke their heads outside the door. All were overjoyed to see the officers coming and they readily gave their version of the affair. They stated that they were passing through and when Mr. Gates told them to get off his place they at once began retracing their steps. He fired a pistol to accelerate their speed and when he did this one threw a small rock in his direction. This they claimed was much smaller than the one shown by Mr. Gates. The officers made no arrests, but cited all concerned to appear before Justice Collins Saturday.

Insurgents Want a Progressive Republican As Chairman.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Insurgent leaders in Congress are already maneuvering for position in the readjustment of relations between the divisions of the Republican party. They seek to take the initiative in the readjustment, which is expected to begin with consultations which the President will hold with leading members of his party.

If the proposal now suggested in correspondence between Insurgent leaders is adopted, it is likely to startle the President. This contemplates the appointment of a new chairman of the Republican National Committee, who will be progressive. This is not a personal attack upon Postmaster-General Frank H. Hitchcock, present boss of the party. It is the Insurgent view of what is necessary to bring victory to the Republicans in 1912.

Should the President accept the suggestion he must either take the old regular chiefs along with him by the force of his personality or leave them behind him and accept the counsels of new leaders. He needs the aid of the old leaders in putting through legislation to which he is committed at this session of Congress. Until March 4 Aldrich, Hale, Cannon and their associates will control Congress.

Senator Smoot, of Utah, who arrived in Washington today, can see no place for the Insurgents, except with the Democrats. He doubts that they will form an alliance with the President. Senator Borah, of Idaho, does not think the "patronage letter" restoring the recognition of the Insurgents by the President in appointments has successfully brought them together. This indicates how wide apart are the two factions.

"Who will be the minority floor leader in the House during the Sixty-second Congress?" The more this question is revolved in the minds of incoming Republicans the more difficult it appears of solution. The prospect of a lively fight over the Republican leadership is growing just as the chance of a Democratic fight over the Speakership appears to be waning.

If the Republicans follow the practice of years, they will select Mr. Cannon as their minority leader. The man in charge on the floor, after a shift in party control of the house, has been generally the retiring Speaker when he was retained in Congress. It has been held that to refuse this honor to the man who has served as Speaker would be the same as casting discredit upon the man who had been elevated to the chair.

But at this particular juncture, with the issue of Cannoism still a live one, the wisdom and propriety of making Mr. Cannon the floor leader of the Republicans when they are relegated to the "minority" after March 4 next is questioned by Republicans.

Sereno E. Payne, of New York, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, is now the floor leader of the Republican majority. He is anxious to cling to that leadership in the Sixty-second Congress. Some Republicans doubt the wisdom of retaining as floor leader the man who framed the Payne bill, although the feeling against him is not so pronounced as against Cannon.

James R. Mann, of Illinois, is believed to have ambitions toward the Republican leadership. He is in Washington, but refuses to discuss politics, and does not say whether he will or will not be a candidate. John Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, is also understood to be winking at the leadership, and Judge Walter I. Smith, of Iowa, of the Appropriations Committee, and one of the few standpatters who won out against the Iowa Insurgents, is also mentioned for the position.

Somewhat stunned by the slashing of his usual majority from 18,000 to less than 2,000 Mr. Mann has little inclination to discuss politics. He does not contemplate any important legislation during the coming session.

ADAM'S PEAK.

A Shrine Sacred to Three Conflicting Religious Sects.

Throughout Asia "holy places" are almost as numerous as leaves on a tree, but in Ceylon is a mountain which enjoys the unique distinction of being a very holy place to the devotees of three absolutely distinct and conflicting religious sects. This is Adam's Peak, or Samanala.

According to the Mohammedan belief, Adam, after the fall, was taken by an angel to the top of Samanala, and a panorama of all the ills that through sin should afflict mankind was spread out before him. His foot left an impression on the solid rock, and his tears formed the lake from which pilgrims still drink. The Buddhists contend that it was not Adam, but Buddha himself that made the footprint in the rock, that being the last spot where he touched the earth before ascending to heaven, while the Brahmins have still another legend. All, however, Brahmins, Mohammedans and Chinese, agree that Samanala is a very holy place, and to perform a pilgrimage to the spot is to the Buddhist what a visit to Mecca is to a Mohammedan. In mixed crowds the worshipers come, each pitying the ignorance of the other, who is so far from the "true way."

It requires no little faith and some imagination to trace in the depression in the rock the likeness of a human footprint. It is 5¼ feet long by 2½ feet wide, on the top of a huge bowlder. The natives, however, insist that it is the footprint of Adam.—Emmett Campbell Hall in Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The Leech as a Barometer.

A leech confined in a glass jar of water will prove an excellent weather prophet. If the weather is to continue fine the leech lies motionless at the bottom of the vial and rolled together in a spiral form. If it is to rain, either before or after noon, it is found to have crept up to the top of its lodging and there remains till the weather is settled. If we are to have wind the prisoner wriggles through his limpid habitation with amazing swiftness and seldom rests till it begins to blow hard. If a remarkable storm of thunder and rain is to succeed the leech gives itself up to violent throes and convulsive motions. In frost, as in clear summer weather, it lies constantly at the bottom, and in snow, as in rainy weather, it pitches its dwelling on the very mouth of the jar.

African Grosbecks.

The social grosbecks of South Africa live in large societies. They select a tree of considerable size and literally cover it with a grass roof, under which their common dwelling is constructed. The roof serves the double purpose of keeping off the heat and the rain, and 400 or 500 pairs of birds are known to have the same shelter. The nests in this aerial dwelling are built in regular streets and closely resemble rows of tenement houses.

A Financial Genius.

"He is a financial genius. In a restaurant the other day he spilled a cup of coffee over a fellow's gray trousers."

"And got out of paying for them, eh?"

"Why, he talked the other fellow into paying for the coffee."

The Man Behind the Message.

The value of a thing depends largely upon who says it. Words may be bullets, but character must be the powder at the back of them to give them projectile force. The man behind the message is as important as the man behind the gun.

CALF CHEWED THE MONEY UP

Baltimore Sun.

Mrs. Luther Calvert, of Clinton, S. C., will get $78 in new notes from the United States Government in return for the $118 in currency which her calf recently chewed up and swallowed.

This will be a net loss of $40, but is regarded as a remarkably good result when the chewing and digestive abilities of a calf are taken into account.

The Merchants' National Bank of Baltimore received Monday from the Spartanburg Natinoal Bank of South Carolina a wad which looked like the "spit balls" which boys occasionally throw at each other in their school romps. It came by express. Accompanying it was a letter saying it had been taken from the intestines of a calf belonging to Mrs .Calvert. The Merchants Bank was asked to use its influence in having the money redeemed. The shapeless mass was sent to the Treasury Department at Washington. Yesterday the remnants were returned, with the statement that on proper affidavit Mrs. Calvert will have returned to her $78 of the $118 which was such a luscious meal for her calf.

Mrs. Calvert dropped the money while milking. It consisted of five $20 bills, a $10 and $5 and three $1 bills and a silver quarter. After a thorough search the silver coin was found. Its condition and other circumstances led her to suspect the calf. Surgery disclosed the mutilated money, and the calf's life paid the forfeit.

The notes identified at the Treasury Department are interesting. The parts of the same notes picked out of the mass are pasted on bank paper such as is used in engraving currency. When any part of the note will identify it, this was returned with the necessary form of affidavit. In this way three $20, one $10, one $5 and the three $1 notes will be honored. Two of the $20 bills could not be recognized in the mass. This is Mrs. Calvert's loss.

The ten pieces of paper with the remnants of the notes attached will be sent to Spartanburg today, with the needed affidavit blank the Government requires. On the return of this Mrs. Calvert will get $78 in new bills. The affidavit pledges that no part of the mutilated notes will be presented for redemption.

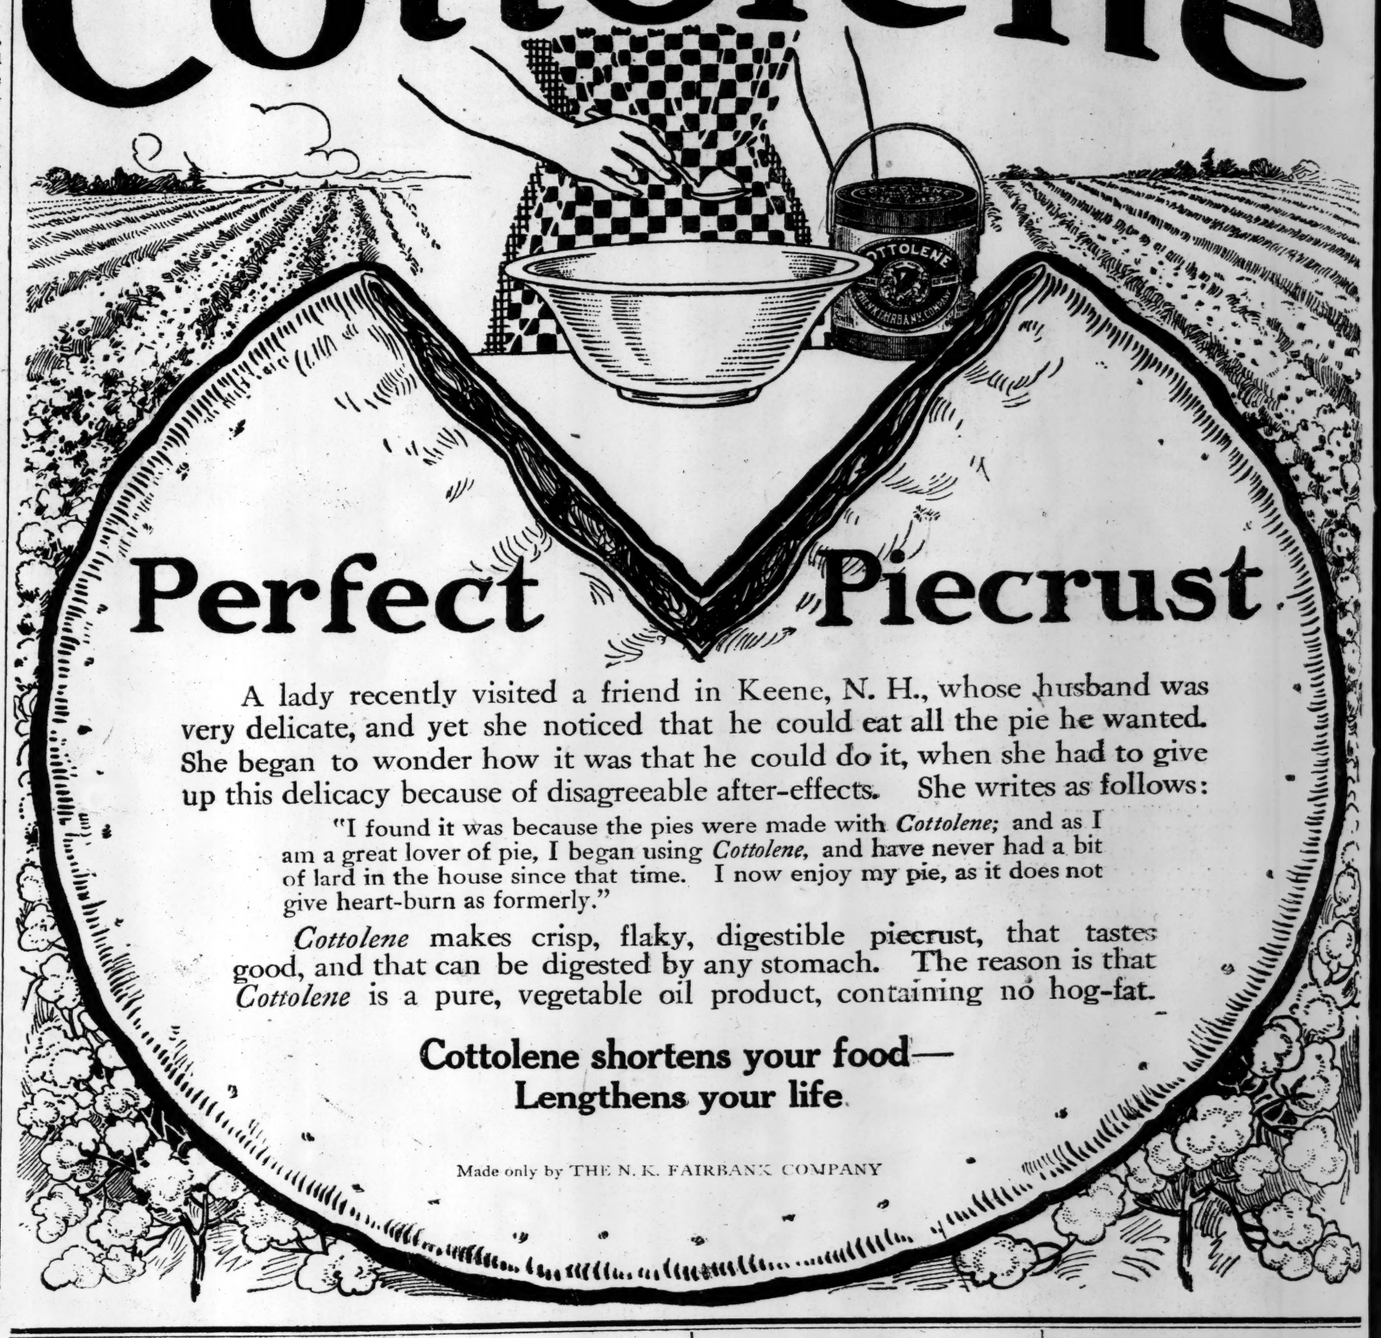
Cottolene



Perfect Piecrust

A lady recently visited a friend in Keene, N. H., whose husband was very delicate, and yet she noticed that he could eat all the pie he wanted. She began to wonder how it was that he could do it, when she had to give up this delicacy because of disagreeable after-effects. She writes as follows:

"I found it was because the pies were made with Cottolene; and as I am a great lover of pie, I began using Cottolene, and have never had a bit of lard in the house since that time. I now enjoy my pie, as it does not give heart-burn as formerly."

Cottolene makes crisp, flaky, digestible piecrust, that tastes good, and that can be digested by any stomach. The reason is that Cottolene is a pure, vegetable oil product, containing no hog-fat.

Cottolene shortens your food—Lengthens your life.

NEW JERSEY TEA.

Red Root, That Did Good Service In Revolutionary Days.

You housekeepers of today whose favorite brands of Orange Pekoe, English Breakfast, India and Ceylon, etc., diffuse their fragrance over your tea table would hardly suppose that tea, or, rather, a fairly good substitute for it, was once made from the leaves of one of our prettiest New Jersey wild flowers. Yet so it was in the old turbulent days of the American Revolution, when they had so much trouble over the imported article and used various beverages as substitutes for that to which they had become accustomed.

New Jersey tea, or red root, as it is also called, is a low growing shrub with many branches, seldom over three feet high, and is found from Canada to Florida, growing usually in dry wooded sections. It is very abundant in New Jersey, for which it is named. It blooms profusely in July and is so showy, with its many panicled white blossoms, as to be quite worth a place in the gardens as an ornamental shrub. It has a dark red root, with leaves downy beneath and very much veined, by which it is easily distinguished from the pure tea. An infusion of the leaves prepared in the same manner as the genuine article has somewhat the taste of ordinary grades of the tea of the orient, but is not supposed to possess any of its stimulating properties.—Exchange.

Not Sorry for Blunder.

"If my friend hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Willing to Change.

While little Bess was being put to bed a thunderstorm set in, and she began to shiver at the thought of being left alone.

"Oh, there's nothing to be afraid of, dearie," said her mother. "I must go down to stay with papa; but God is right here with you, and he won't let anything harm you."

For the moment the child was pacified, but presently there came a clap that made the windows rattle.

"Mamma!" piped a tremulous little voice from the upper landing.

"Yes, dearie?"

"Won't you please come up here and stay with God, and let me go down and stay with papa?"—Harper's Magazine.

Both Speedy and Effective.

This indicates the action of Foley Kidney Pills as S. Parsons, Battle Creek, Mich., illustrates: "I have been afflicted with a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for which I found no relief until I used Foley Kidney Pills. These cured me entirely of all my ailments. I was troubled with backaches and severe shooting pains with annoying urinary irregularities. The steady use of Foley Kidney Pills rid me entirely of all my former troubles. They have my highest recommendation." Howard Gardner.

His View.

"Looks like the true society mother instinct," suggested the other—a mere man, of course.—Louisville Herald.

A Household Medicine.

To be really valuable must show equally good results from each member of the family using it. Foley's Honey and Tar does just this. Whether for children or grown persons Foley's Honey and Tar is best and safest for all coughs and colds. Howard Gardner.

Noticed on the Street.

St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Still, it will be noticed that the woman with the peach-blow face rarely conceals it under a peach-basket hat.

Shall Women Vote?

If they did, millions would vote Dr. King's New Life Pills the true remedy for women. For banishing dull, fagged feelings, backache or headache, constipation, dispelling colds, imparting appetite and toning up the system, they're unequaled. Easy, safe, sure. 25c at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Blobbs—"I wonder why Bjones has taken to wearing such loud hosiery?" Slobbs—"He says every time he gets cramped up his foot's asleep."

Mr Otto Paul, Milwaukee, Wis., says: Foley's Honey and Tar is still more than the best. He writes us, "All those that bought it think it is the best for coughs and colds they ever had and I think it is still more than the best. Our baby had a bad cold and it cured him in one day. Please accept thanks." Howard Gardner.

It is natural that we should all want to see the right prevail, for every man is convinced that he is on that side.

Make Up Your "List"

Christmas is drawing very near. No use waiting until the eleventh hour. Make up your list today. Jot down the names of all to whom you intend to make presents. That done, mark down what you desire to give them.

Then select every day one or two presents. A small deposit will secure them for you. They will be laid aside until the day before Christmas.

A look at the show windows and the store proper will aid in making selections. Come whenever you like, and as often as you please. We will be very glad to show you around. You will never be urged to buy.

You will probably give at least one watch. By buying it here you will save enough so that for the difference you can secure a very good chain to attach to it.

There will surely be some one to whom you will want to give a ring, to others bracelets, lockets and scarf pins, brooches and studs. For still others you will want little trinkets in silver novelties.

ARIZONA ROAD RUNNER.

A Sociable Bird That Is Said to Hate a Rattlesnake.

The road runner is one of Arizona's distinctive ornithological institutions. It is a long legged, long billed bird, slender of build and standing some ten inches high. It is not often seen in the farming districts, but is a familiar sight on the desert.

It has gained the name of road runner from its habit of taking the road in front of travelers be they on horseback or wheeled conveyance, and running swiftly or slowly, as occasion requires, showing off its neighborly spirit and running qualities. It is not uncommon for it to keep in company of the traveler for several hundred yards.

No resident of Arizona would kill a road runner. It is firmly believed that the bird is the deadly enemy of that monster of the desert, the rattlesnake. We don't know whether any of our readers ever saw a road runner kill a rattlesnake. If there is an authentic story of such a thing we would be glad to publish it. But the accepted tradition is that the road runner and the rattlesnake are deadly enemies and that the rattlesnake fears the road runner beyond anything else.

It is told that the bird drives the snake into a coil and then, darting around the serpent like lightning, pecks it to death. Whatever truth there may be in the stories of the road runner's accomplishments as a disciple of St. Patrick, it deserves the friendly protection it receives. Its quaint sociability is always a diversion for the lonesome desert traveler. —Arizona Republican.

BRAINY BABY.

John Stuart Mill Was a Genius at Three Years of Age.

At three years of age John Stuart Mill began the study of Greek, with "arithmetic as an evening relaxation."

At eight he began Latin, Euclid and algebra and had to act as tutor to the younger children. He was a stern and efficient tutor.

At twelve he began scholastic logic and political economy—the latter his main lifework.

At fourteen, while paying a long visit to Sir Samuel Bentham in southern France, he learned French as a relaxation from studying two or three hours before breakfast, five hours between breakfast and dinner and two or three in the evening. Being for the time master of his own hours and not subject to a stern father, he took lessons also in his spare hours in music, singing, dancing, fencing and riding, but never became proficient.

At sixteen Mill could speak in debate with adults with ease and freedom. At eighteen he contributed to the Westminster Review. At twenty-one he was made assistant in the India office and received a large salary for those days.

But Mill was bald at twenty-two. He did not marry until he was forty-five. He himself said: "I never was a boy. It is better to let nature have its own way."
